1. The essential terms of a standard wind lease grant the wind company the right to install wind turbines, cables, roads, and other facilities on the property and the right to operate such facilities for a period of 20 years or more. In exchange the landowner is paid an annual fee based on the number of turbines installed on the property.
2. Compensation depends on number of turbines or transmission lines on the property, revenues received from turbine operation, which in turn vary with wind and energy prices.
3. Unless noted otherwise, all agreements are in place as of the date of this table.
